Director Casey asked me to write to you because he is very busy with official duties. You seem to be a bright, responsible, and ambitious young person. I am afraid, however, that you cannot be an intelligence officer until you are eighteen.

We hope you will apply with us when you are older. A college education is useful for many of our positions -- so study hard! We need people with your enthusiasm. I have enclosed two publications which will tell you more about the Central Intelligence Agency. Do not forget us.
